

Why choose Accredited Registers?

- The Accredited Registers programme which is backed by government is focused on public protection and only accredits registers that meet standards in education and training, complaints and governance, and a commitment to public protection.
- There are over 50,000 talking therapy practitioners on registers accredited by the PSA.
- Therapists who are listed on a register accredited by the PSA must be qualified professionals who meet the minimum standards required by that register.
- This means that any registered therapist on a PSA accredited register is one you can feel comfortable referring to.
- You can check practitioners via the register websites (overleaf) or at www.checkapractitioner.com

PRODUCED BY COUNSELLORS TOGETHER UK (CTUK)

CTUK is the UK's largest counsellors' campaign group with over 7,000 members.

Our main aim is to work together to end the culture and prevalence of unpaid work within our profession, raising the profile of the counselling professions.
